

Pronouns (personal)

Pronouns are words which substitute – or stand in – for nouns or proper nouns. They help avoid repetition. Replace the underlined words with pronouns from the words at the bottom of the page. All pronouns must be used at least once.

Mountain drama 1

- 1 Last December a party of students set out walking in the Cairngorm Mountains. When the expedition started the weather was fine, but within hours the weather^{it}..... had turned nasty.
- 2 The students were well equipped, but disaster struck, when one of the students , Roger Elmslow, missed Roger Elmslow's footing in the terrible conditions and fell onto a rocky ledge. Fortunately Roger survived the fall, but Roger had broken both of Roger's legs. Roger needed help and Roger needed help fast.
- 3 Saeed Khan, wanted to return for assistance. Saeed said "Roger is a friend of Saeed's and it is up to Saeed to find help."
- 4 Patty Burnside, a teacher and the expedition leader, was not so sure. Patty said, "The weather is already terrible and the weather could get worse. If Saeed attempted to go back, Saeed could get into difficulties."
- 5 Patty continued, "All of the students know that Roger is Saeed's friend and all of the students share Saeed's concern but that is not the best way for Saeed to help."
- 6 Saeed accepted what Patty said, though Saeed found another way to help. That, however, is another story.

he	his	it	me	mine	she
them	they	we	us	you	your